BAN GIRL USHERS IS CHICAGO MOVE

Chicago, March 8.—Legislation prohibiting the employment of girl ushers in Chicago theaters is being considered by the council committee which is investigating panic prevention in amusement places.

The argument is made that girl ushers would not be as dependable in case of a fire panic as would male ushers, although no statistics were supplied to back up this contention Patrons of the theaters much prefer the neat and courteous girls to the men formerly employed in this capacity. The theater managers also assert that girls are much more dependable in every way.

HARDING TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION

Congress Will Not Meet Before April 4, May Be Week Later

PROGRAM OUTLINED

To Keep Columbian Treaty—Disagree Over Tariff—Peace Not Taken Up—Johnson Among Guests

Washington, March 8 — President Harding announced early today that the special session of Congress would be called not before April 4 and might be a week later.

The announcement was made after a White House dinner which Republican leaders of the Senate and House attended. The conference lasted for four hours and the President said the legislative program had been discussed.

The President said this was the beginning of a program of co-operation. Various subjects were discussed, he added, in an attempt to ascertain the most important to be taken up by the next Congress.

After the conference broke up and his guests had departed, the President came out on the front portico of the White House to talk to the 50 newspaper correspondents.

Asked about the special session, the President said.

"I can only say to you that it will not be earlier than April 4 and it might possibly be a week later.

"We also discussed a taxation program for the session. We were trying to determine which was the real pressing business for Congress, whether it was emergency tariff legislation or a complete revision of the tax schedules.

"We passed the matter up for further conference after there has been a canvass of the committees in charge of that legislation. It means that instead of going into a session of Congress without knowing whither we are going, we are trying to canvass the whole situation and arrive at a program.

"This is the beginning of the program of co-operation between the President and Congress. It is an early step in the fulfilment of what I believe the best policy of conducting the Government, bringing the fellows together and getting them acquainted with other's views."

Ratification of the Columbian treaty was mentioned, the President said, but he indicated that there had been no decision. This treaty, by which the United States would pay $25,000,000 to Colombia for the partitioning of Panama, was reported out yesterday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The President said army and navy matters had only been discussed "very casually." The failure of the appropriation bills had been referred to, he said, in considering what the special session would have to handle.

Opposition to the re-enactment of the Payne-Aldrich Tariff law as a stop gap measure until a new law can be enacted developed at the conference, according to some of those attending.

Chairman Fordney, of the House Ways and Means Committee, was said to have laid before the conference his plans for tariff revision and the proposal to re-enact the Payne-Aldrich law met with instant opposition from Senators present.

One member of the House said the legislative situation so far as it affected tariff revision was more "muddled," to his mind, than it was before the conference. He referred to differences between Chairman Fordney and Representative Longworth, of Ohio, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, over tariff revision, but whether these were ironed at the conference was not made clear.

Chairman Fordney was said to have presented an equalization tariff plan to protect American industry designed to place foreign goods on the American market on a par with American goods. President Harding [illegible] but none of the guests [illegible] that the adoption of the Knox resolution to declare the state of war at an end also had not entered into the discussion.

At the dinner places of precedence were occupied by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, Republican Senate leader, and Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, Republican leader of the House. Also among those invited were Senator Behrose, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Representative Fordney, of Michigan, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. These are the two committees, which will frame tariff and tax legislation.

Another name on the list of guests which attracted particular attention was that of Senator Johnson, of California, the former Progressive party leader and candidate for the Republican President nomination. Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, also was among the guests.

The other guests chosen by Mr. Harding for his first formal legislative conference were Senators Curtis, of Kansas; Warren, of Wyoming; Cummins, of Iowa; Wardsworth, of New York, and Poindexter, of Washington, and Representatives Mann, of Illinois; Longworth, of Ohio; Kelley, of Michigan; Anthony, of Kansas; Slemp, of Virginia; Campbell, of Kansas; Fess, of Ohio; Towner, of Ohio, and Winslow, of Massachusetts. Most of those on the list are chairmen of important committees.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE YIELD TOTAL OF 395

First Day of Chamber of Commerce Campaign a Success

40 ENGAGE IN TASK

Reports of Committees Submitted This Afternoon at Luncheon—Drive to End Thursday

An intensive campaign today was launched by the Chamber of Commerce for renewal of memberships and when the committee reported this afternoon at a luncheon served at the Hotel Rammel it was announced by W. Albert Smoot, who presided, that a grand total of 395 memberships had been obtained as a result of the first day's drive.

The result was received with general satisfaction by those engaged in the task. Some firms took many memberships. The membership in each instance is for a period of one year. The old memberships made on the last drive were taken three years ago and it was decided this time to only seek one year membership and the result, as stated above is regarded as very satisfactory.

About forty business and professional men today started on the canvass for memberships, being divided off in to groups of two and three. All reported with meeting with success in almost every case where a renewal was sought.

The drive will be continued tomorrow and end Thursday. The membership dues in this organization are $25 a year.

LIMERICK'S MAYOR SLAIN AT HOME; WIFE IS SHOT

Dublin, March 8.—George Clancy, Mayor of Limerick, was shot and killed at his home in that city early yesterday morning, and his wife was seriously wounded. At about the same time, Michael O'Callaghan, former Mayor of the city, was also killed at his residence.

Meager reports received here state that Mayor Clancy and his wife were shot at about 1:30 o'clock, but, owing to curfew restrictions, members of the household were afraid to venture on the streets to secure aid, and friends, with whom they communicated by telephone, could not go to the house for the same reason.

About two hours later, a doctor arrived from a hospital and found Mayor Clancy dead and Mrs. Clancy in a critical condition. Former Mayor O'Callaghan was dying when doctors summoned by the police arrived at the house.

SALE STARTS TOMORROW

The Man's Store at the corner of King and Alfred streets, has been closed for two days preparing for what is evidently to be the biggest sale ever seen in Alexandria.

The writer had occasion to visit the store and was so surprised at the astonishing reductions of the entire line of men's clothing and furnishings that I at once picked out a suit for use for later on.

Mr. Gerber, the proprietor, informed me that no effort was being spared to make this a real bargain event, and that for ten days the entire stock, including all the new spring suits, shirts, hats, etc., would be on sale at the low prices advertised on another page of this paper. He also said that owing to the large amount of advertising that had been so widely distributed that he could not pronounce how long the lines would last and that the early comers would certainly get the pick of those greatly reduced stocks.

In addition to the greatly lowered prices there are several novel features to this sale, such as selling a good heavy bath towel for one cent to the first fifty people entering the store Wednesday morning at 9 a. m.

ALLIED ARMIES SEIZE GERMAN CITIES

Gen. Foch In Command of Troops Now Occupies Three Cities

NEGOTIATIONS FAIL

Premiers Aroused When Simons Seeks to Evade Blame For War—Charge Nation Shirks Responsibility

London, March 8.—Marshal Foch telegraphed to French commanders of the army on the Rhine, at 7 o'clock last night to advance immediately into Germany, occupying the cities of Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort. Today the troop movements are already under way on the right bank of the Rhine.

This action followed the complete breakdown in the reparations negotiations. The new German offer, made to the Supreme Council today was flatly rejected by the Allied Premiers. Premier Lloyd George, speaking for the Entente, said the German substitute proposals were entirely unacceptable, and advised Dr. Walter Simons, head of the Berlin delegation, that the Allies were compelled to put into effect the penalties which would force Germany to pay her war bill.

Premier Lloyd George, in replying to the proposals of Dr. Simons, said that the German people evidently did not realize the facts of the situation, and he charged that they exhibited a decided disposition to shirk the responsibility for the war.

The Premier, in concluding his speech, turned to Dr. Simons and informed him that he feared the German Foreign Minister was not in a position to negotiate. He said that Simons represented a German public opinion which was not ready to pay.

The British Premier concluded by asserting that the proposals put forth by Simons evaded and postponed a settlement and that the sanctions must be put into effect immediately.

Lloyd Georges' speech, clearly showed his reluctance to take this step, and he used an almost apologetic tone when he said: "I very much regret that I have to state on behalf of the Allied governments that not only are the proposals which Dr. Simons made yesterday morning unacceptable, but that in spite of the interval which has occurred since our last meeting they do not represent an advance on the first proposals as justify the postponement of the execution of the sanctions.

"I need hardly say that we all deeply deplore, in the interest of world peace, having to come to this decision, and it is not for lack of effort and discussion that I have now to announce on behalf of the Allies the failure to come to anything like an approximate understanding with Germany.'"

Dr. Simons made a brief reply, in which he protested that there was a misunderstanding of his proposals. The German delegates then left St. James's Palace, where the conference was held, and will depart today for Berlin.

It is reported that only about 15,000 troops will be employed to carry out the sanctions ordered, but that many more will be needed if Germany is invaded. The French are now said to have 75,000 men on the Rhine.

In order to have its hands free to deal with Germany, France today will make peace with the Turkish Nationalists, and about 60,000 French troops now in Cilicia will be recalled for duty on France's eastern front.

When Dr. Simons appeared this morning to present the Germans' reply, the allied delegates listened more as a matter of form than because the new proposals contained any suggestions entirely new. For the last twenty-four hours various British representatives have been in communication with the German delegates, with Lloyd George doing his best to get Dr. Simons to present terms which would be acceptable to the French. But in this he had failed.

Omar Khayyam.

Church Publicity.

The Baltimore Southern Methodist has an exceedingly interesting editorial on the subject of churches advertising in the newspapers. At the recent convention of the Diocese of Maryland of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Baltimore many of the clergymen present took occasion to flay their erring brethren unmercifully. They had no better words for this kind of publicity than, "reproach to the community," "church vulgarity," "unfortunate exhibition of bad taste," and the like.

The Southern Methodist, however, takes up a powerful cudgel in favor of church publicity in the press. It illustrates its position by a remarkable instance. What it calls "our representative church" in the city of Washington, some time ago revolutionized religious advertising in the newspapers by coming out on Saturday in bold type, giving the subject of the next day's sermon, a brief exposition of the clerical thesis, an announcement of the musical program, and a cordial invitation to all to come and listen. The Southern Methodist states in its editorial that today this church has not sufficient capacity in its auditorium to hold the crowds. Nay, more, the pastor of a smaller neighboring church claims that the aggressive work of this great Church has helped its own attendance.

For our own Part, we believe in the Church Militant! This signifies no less than that the Christian church in this world is to be regarded always as in a constant warfare with its enemies, the powers of evil. The supreme dignity of this paramount Cause of all causes on earth, surely dignifies whatever clean methods are used in its behalf. What signifies clerical dignity in comparison with the salvation of human souls?

Today what we need is to draw the crowds to the church, to get them inside and then to give them to drink of the waters of Eternal Life. If advertising can accomplish this, as there is no longer doubt that it does—then advertise. 'Sdeath! —If there be "tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything"—why not tongues and books and sermons and good in a newspaper advertisement? We iterate again, cast dignity and convention to the wild winds, if so be it you can save one single human soul from eternal perdition!

Thirty-three Facts

In our yesterday's editorial we briefly summarized the war work of our Chamber of Commerce. Today we desire to call attention to what the modest leaders of that body call "commercial work." Rather should we term it "civic work," "patriotic work," "devotional work" of the most high character. Their labors have been wrought solely for the betterment of Alexandria and all the people who call it "home." What has been accomplished is a matter of record. There can be no dispute as to this.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce have just issued a little brochure that enumerates thirty-three accomplished facts. This means realized actualities that have passed into the city's history. It means that these men have, time and again, reached far into the shadowy realms of vision, grasped the ideals that had existed only in their minds, and brought them to earth that all men might see them, share them, and enjoy their fruits. The list is too long to enumerate here. But we earnestly ask our readers to obtain a copy of this little pamphlet, and thereby glimpse the work of these servants of the public good. Walk where we will in our city, touch whatever thread we may in the fabric of our municipal life, and we find some visible token that these busy men have been there before us, and left the imprint of their labors. "So shine their good deeds in a naughty world!"

There is one saying of the immortal Shakespeare that used to cause us wonder, because it was contrary to history. We mean the passage where Mark Antony exclaims over the body of Caesar: "The evil that men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones." Upon a closer study, however, we found that it was not Shakespeare's thought, but the cunning utterance of the very prince of demagogues—Mark Antony, seeking to inflame the mob. The most illuminating example of consummate demagoguery ever given by a master mind for the enlightenment of future generations. So we were left undisturbed in our conviction that it is the good men do that lives after them!

So be it with these thirty-three facts stamped indelibly into our city's history. The Moving Finger, mentioned in our "Today's Thoughts," has writ and moved on. Nor, luckily, can all our piety and wit lure it back to cancel half a line; nor all our tears wash out a word of it!

We have written thus far of the past of our Chamber of Commerce, some sixteen years of age by all the calendars of time. Tomorrow we hope to write somewhat of its future. Those visions—those dreams—those prophecies of future greatness for dear old Alexandria—that are yet among the unfulfilled ideals that linger in those fertile brains of our city's best and bravest—why should they not, too, become living and stirring realities in our midst?

Thirty-three facts accomplished in a brief three years—why not thrice thirty-three in the next cycle of our great institution?

It is up to us, good reader! Shall we shirk or work?

Rome, March 8.—The Most Rev. Dennis J. Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, was created a cardinal at a consistory at the Vatican yesterday.

Archbishop Dougherty was the only American to be elevated to the cardinalate. The five others were European. There were no Italians among them.

After the ceremonies at the Vatican a reception was held at the American College, where the honored churchmen were congratulated by cardinals and other high prelates and members of the Italian nobility. Cardinal Dougherty was a conspicuous figure.

The first prelate to congratulate Cardinal Dougherty was Cardinal Fruhwirt, papal nuncio at Munich. The next was Cardinal Bourne, of London.

On Wednesday Pope Benedict XV will impose the biretta upon the new cardinals. The speech of thanks will be made by Cardinal Michael Von Faulhaber, of Munich, who was elevated yesterday. There will be a public consistory Thursday, when the cardinals will get the red hat.

Neither good ingredients alone; nor skillful baking by itself will make good bread. It takes both---careful selection of the component ingredients---insuring purity and the maximum of nutrition---and scientific knowledge and perfected machinery for the treatment of the doughs.

That combination is ideally attained in Corby Bread. 100 per cent pure; 100 per cent nutritious---achieved completely by the patented mixing process which develops the full gluten strength of the highest grade flour.

So don't just ask for bread; but specify CORBY BREAD—and enjoy its delicious palatableness and rich nutritive value.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

INVEST IN CAPITAL STOCK OF THE

Washington Tire & Rubber Corporation

(INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF VIRGINIA)

AUTHORIZED CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. ALL COMMON STOCK

PAR VALUE $10.00 A SHARE

THE CORPORATION HAS BOUGHT A FACTORY SITE CONSISTING OF SEVEN AND ONE-QUARTER ACRES—LOCATED ON MAIN LINE OF SO. R. R. AND R. F. & P. R. R.—IN GREATER ALEXANDRIA, VA., WHERE A MODERN REINFORCED CONCRETE FACTORY WILL BE ERECTED.

SHARE IN THE PROFITS OF A MIGHTY INDUSTRY

You like thousands of others, have stood by and watched other people who have invested, double and treble their money, and in many cases accumulated large fortunes, and have regretted that you passed up the same opportunity.—Many, many times you probably have wished that the same opportunity might present itself again, so that you, too might invest and become independent.

Become a Partner in a Business that has a Wonderful Future

It is conceded by every TIRE EXPERT in the United States that the rubber industry will be greater from now on, than ever before. Those who know anything about the profits that have been made in the manufacture and sale of rubber tires, tubes, and accessories—know how great they have been, and also know that the future profits to be made will be enormous.

Tremendous profits have been made by small investors in the rubber industry—$500 invested in the following rubber companies at the time of organization would be worth as follows:

$500 invested in FISK TIRE & RUBBER COMPANY, stock worth today	$60,000.00
$500 invested in GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER COMPANY stock worth today	$61,550.00
$500 invested in DIAMOND RUBBER COMPANY stock worth today	$75,000.00
$500 invested in GOODRICH TIRE & RUBBER COMPANY stock worth today	$348,000.00
$500 invested in KELLY-SPRINGFIELD RUBBER COMPANY stock worth today	$26,000.00

TIRE BUSINESS HAS ITS GREATEST YEAR

Extract from Automobile Trade Journal December, 1920.

Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co's. Sales in 1920 were over $205,000,000—in 1919 sales were $167,000,000—$38,000,000 increase.

Firestone Tire and Rubber Co's. sales in 1920 were between $105,000,000 and $108,000,000, in 1919 sales were $91,000,000, and in 1918 sales were $75,000,000.

The Miller Tire and Rubber Co's. sales in 1920 were $31,000,000—sales in 1919, $27,110,588.

Sales of B. F. Goodrich Company were approximately $143,000,000 in 1919.

$1,434,909 Increase in Automobiles in 1919

There are now registered in the U. S. approximately 8,500,000 automobiles—and it is estimated that there will be 10,000,000 in service within the next two years.

The Washington Tire and Rubber Corporation was formed after carefully surveying the entire field of the rubber industry and taking into consideration the enormous present and ever increasing demand for manufactured articles of rubber.

We consider the location as being the best that could be obtained, due to the several reasons as follows:—all raw materials will be brought in by water, thereby saving a great deal of money on transportation charges—Then the wonderful shipping facilities that are afforded for both export and domestic trades, both by steamship and seven main trunk lines to the fast growing cities of the South.

The aim of the men associated with the corporation is to manufacture the best tires, tubes and other articles of rubber that years of experience in the rubber industry can produce. Not simply to sell the merchandise the first time, but to gain the confidence of the motor owner and public by giving a dollars value for every dollar received, thereby making of every purchaser a permanent booster of the products of the corporation. The corporations business is not for a day or season—it will increase for years to come—the foundation of the corporation, the Washington Compression Tube has successfully passed the tests that determines the companys future in a business way—the automobile owners stand ready and are willing to buy the Washington Compression Inner Tubes, to eliminate the trouble and inconvenience of motoring as it is with the old standard tube, it is up to us to furnish them.

The corporation will be managed by thorough experienced and capable business men—who know the rubber business from A to Z, know how to make good tires, tubes and rubber.

Sunbury, Pa., March 8.—Women's skirts must be not less than four inches below the knees in this staid borough, according to Police Chief Smith's edict yesterday. The chief made the usual order after a dozen or more telephone calls had been received complaining that two pretty maidens were parading the streets with the lace on their skirts too far from their toes.

The chief was indignant. Immediately he sent the police on their trail, but the girls could not be found. Matrons, being members of the baldhead part of the church congregations staring and smiling as the girls passed, blushed, turned their heads and looked severely ahead. The police order followed.

A MERCHANDISE CRISIS!!

Prices Shattered

Alexandria's Leading Store Stages The Biggest - Broadest Sale Ever Seen Here

Store Closed

MONDAY and TUESDAY to mark down and arrange this entire stock for Alexandria's greatest sale.

10 DAYS of FURIOUS SELLING AT PRICES That Stagger Belief

Here Is The Absolute Truth Of This Sale

Remember this is a drastic disposal in which merchandise is being offered regardless of cost or loss. The sacrifice is so unprecedented the cuts in prices are bound to exhaust even some of the largest lines in a days time. Our stocks are large and complete but these is a limit in even an honor-bright sale of this kind.

Would you give a dollar for what ordinarily cost two or three dollars if you needed the article? Well that's how drastic the reductions are and because of the limited space we cannot list some of the lines in which the greatest sacrifices are being made. You must come to learn.

Do not confuse this massive merchandise movement with the ordinary so called "clearance" or "reduction" sales in which only broken lots and odd sizes are offered you. We have put our entire stock of nationally known and advertised brands of finest clothing and furnishings on the bargain block for 10 days at prices that you can not afford to miss. Come and let your own eyes see the visible proof that this master selling event is all that you could hope for.
